

Lyrics for The Love of Thousands: Singing with Angels, Saints, and Ancestors

1. Welcome to this Circle

by Trish Bruxvoort Colligan

Welcome to this circle
where love and grace abound.
We honor your journey, and wherever you are bound.
We will walk beside you, encourage you on your way,
celebrate your spirit and hold you as we pray.

There is love for one like you.
There is grace enough to see you through.
And wherever you have walked, whatever path you choose
May you know there is love for one like you.

Welcome to this circle
where love and grace abound.
We honor your journey, and wherever you are bound.
We will walk beside you, encourage you on your way,
celebrate your spirit and hold you as we pray.

There is love for one like you.
There is grace enough to see you through.
And wherever you have walked, whatever path you choose
May you know there is love for one like you.

And wherever you have walked, whatever path you choose
May you know there is love for one like you.

2. Calling All Angels

by MaMuse

Calling all angels here to guide you.
Calling all angels to surround you.
Calling all angels to walk beside you.
Love, may you walk on solid ground.

All of your cards are out on the table,
each of your bags neatly packed horses are drawn and out of the stable now there is no looking back.

Each in our own, each one in our time will find our way back to the source.
Know as you go, I am right here behind you
Loving you living your choice.

Calling all angels here to guide you.
Calling all angels to surround you.
Calling all angels to walk beside you.
Love, may you walk on solid ground.

3. Holy Angels by Sara Thomsen

You are held by
holy angels.
Holy angels
all around you.

Hush now, sleep child
sing the holy angels.
We are holding you,
You can rest.

Morning will come child,
The dawn will break through the darkness.
We are holding you
through the light of the newborn day.

Loo, loo . . .

You are held by
holy angels.
Holy angels
all around you.

We are holding you,
you can rest.

4. A New Name (Genesis 32:22-28) by Richard Bruxvoort Colligan

Alone and afraid in the dark night
Wrestling with strength that won't let go.
As long as it takes till morning breaks,
A new name.

6. All Shall Be Well
Inspired by Julian of Norwich
by Kathryn Christian

All shall be well, all shall be well,
All matter of things shall be well.
All shall be well, all shall be well,
All matter of things shall be well.

Rest in my embrace, my beloved, all is well.
Sleep in safety,
Let your cares melt away.
Place your heart in my embrace.

7. Christ is the Mirror

Inspired by the words of St. Clare of Assisi
by Laura Ash

Christ is the Mirror; Christ is the Light.
Gaze on that Mirror and see yourself within.
All things are holy, all things are one.
Gaze on creation and see your soul within.

Always be a lover of your soul.
Always be a lover of your soul.

Here in this Sanctuary of Life,
Here is the love and food for your soul.
Enter this dwelling, bring who you are.
Gaze on this table and know the source within.
We become the love that we receive.
We become the love that we receive.

Christ is the Mirror; Christ is the Light.
Gaze on that Mirror and see yourself within.
All here is sacred; all here is one.
Gaze on your neighbor and know the love within.
One with one another, one with Christ.
One with one another, one with Christ.

8. Bookmark Prayer

Inspired by St. Teresa of Avila
by Simon de Voil

Let nothing disturb you,
Let nothing frighten you.
Everything changes,
I alone remain.
Hold patience, for nothing is wasted.
Presence in all things
I'm with you in all things.

You reflect my highest love.
You reflect my highest love, my love.

12. We Remember Them

by Trish Bruxvoort Colligan

Verse 1

We remember them in the rising moon.
We remember them in the mourning dove.
When the waters rush upon the shore
We remember them singing ever more.

Verse 2

We remember them in the blowing wind.
We remember them in the rustling leaves.
When the buds unfurl into the spring,
We remember them and we try to sing.

Verse 3

We remember them in the fallen tree
We remember them in the candle flame
When the blue of the sky opens wide
We remember them and keep their songs alive.

Bridge

And they too shall live.
As they are woven into us.

Verse 4

We remember them in the rising moon.
We remember them in the morning dawn.
When the waters rush upon the shore
We remember them singing ever more.

Verse 5

I remember you singing ever more.
I remember you singing ever more.
I remember you singing ever more.
I remember you singing ever more.

13. Weep with Me by Deirdre Ní Chinnéide

Weep with me for darkness I have been.
Weep with me for darkness I have seen.
Weep with me for all that I have known,
For when the heart's divided it wanders far from home.

A mhuire na ngrás
A mhaithir Mhic Dé
Go gloise tú sa dorchadas mé.

(Hail Mary, Full of Grace.
Hail, Mother of God.
Hear me in the Darkness.)

A mhuire na ngrás
A mhaithir Mhic Dé
Go sabhála tú me

Go sabhála tú mé.
(Hail Mary, Full of Grace,
Hail, Mother of God.
Heal Me)

Hold me in your arms
Hold me in your arms
Hold me

See me in your eyes
See me in your eyes
See me.
Know me in your heart
Know me in your heart
Know me.

For all can be,
Earth, sky and sea.

Turas numinous don chroí.n
(Sacred journey of the heart.)

14. Go in Peace

by Katarina Stendstedt

Refrain

Go in peace, you are love, you are loved.
Go in peace, you are loved.
Go with God, you are loved, you are love.
Go with God, you are love.

Verse 1

The God who wove you in the dark,
the one whose rough hands made your heart had you in mind before the dawn of time.
The one who gazed with gentle eyes at all the colors of your life before the threads were dyed,
the artist saw your light.

Verse 2

Back at the house you started from your God has left the porchlight one however late the hour, you'll find a way.
O welcome then, back to the light in from the dark of mortal strife into the house of grace
where love lives, take your place.

15. Ancestor Blessing

Ancestor guide, will you guide my feet?

16. Grandmother Song

Written by Sandy Vaughn

Adapted by Lorraine Bayes

I hear the voice of my grandmother call.

She says, "Wake up, wake up children

Wake up, wake up.

Listen, Listen . . . Listen, listen."

I hear the voice of my grandmother call.

She says, "Stand in your power, people,

Stand in your power.

Listen, listen . . . Listen, listen."

May the rivers all run wild.

May the mountains go unspoiled.

May the air be clean,

May the trees grow tall.

May there be love for every mother and child.

May there be love for every woman and man.

May there be love -- for every being in the wild.

Tag:

I hear the voice of my grandmother calling me.

Listen, listen . . . Listen, listen.

17. Cypress Seed Song

by Betsey Beckman

I hold in my hand these seeds of the future,
the courage to live and the courage to die.
This gold in my hand, these seeds of the future;
Put your hand in my hand and we'll reach for the sky.

Light shines on the seeds of the future;
Light shines on the leaves of the past.
I walk on the land of my mother who nourished these seeds so that courage might last.

18. Sending you Light by Melanie de More

No matter where you go,
No matter where you've been,

I walk the path with you
Go slow dear one; don't hurry.
I'll go just like you need to go,
there is no need to worry.

19. Let the Land Sing by Lydia Violet

Where are we going to?
Where did we come from?
What does it mean to all be bones under the same ol' sun?
I've always been, always been right here...

So let the land sing through you,
Like the rolling holy.
Let the land sing through you,
Like the rolling holy.
Ooo's

Trees my lungs, mist my breath,
That moon is blooming in my chest.
Courage, my love, your roots grow deep,
Down deep.
Scrambled stardust and mud
make up my own bones and blood
I've always been, always been right here...

So let the land sing through you,
Like the rolling holy.
Let the land sing through you,
Like the rolling holy.

And then they came with their torches and their guns,
And so my friends gathered one by one by one by one.
I asked the spider how she weaves her web,
And she replied my dear, "Thread by thread by thread by thread."
Like ancestors with songs in their packs,
And they became us track by track by track by...
What is the mud that made you?
What is the mud that made you?
What is the mud that made you?
I love the mud that made you.
What is the mud that made you?
What is the mud that made you?
What is the mud that made you?

So let the land sing through you,
Like the rolling holy.
Let the land sing through you,

Like the rolling holy.

So let the land sing through you, through you,

Like the rolling holy.

Let the land sing through you,

Like the rolling holy.

Ooo's
